Showdown Is Believed Near on Ship Subsidy Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(P)—
A showdown on ship subsidy legislation appeared more probable tonight as a new bill, reportedly backed by President Roosevelt, was introduced in the senate.

Postoffice and Commerce Department officials conferred until long after nightfall in an attempt to arrive at an agreement which they hope to submit to President Roosevelt before the end of this week. The departments have been deadlocked for weeks over the form of proposed legislation to pay an outright subsidy in place of the present mail contract system.

The new merchant marine bill, introduced by Senator Guffey, democrat, Pennsylvania, was described by Senator Gibson, republican, Vermont, as "the President's bill—I know it!"

The postoffice-commerce conferes declared they "hadn't ever seen" the Guffey bill, and insisted they were still trying to work out an agreement by suggesting amendments to an earlier bill by Senator Copeland, democrat, New York.

Gibson himself introduced a third merchant marine bill today, and hope of clearing the confused legislative situation apparently awaited a conference between Copeland, Guffey, Gibson and Chairman Black, democrat, Alabama, of the senate committee which investigated ocean mail contracts.

the end of all ocean mail contracts on December 31.

Gibson's bill would provide for cancellation of contracts within 60 days after passage of the bill.

Senator Black threw his general support behind the Guffey bill.

"It approaches the subject from the standpoint of the public interest," he said, adding that he would fight the Copeland bill "as vigorously as possible."

SALARY ARGUMENT MAY END MONDAY

Settlement of Bond Commission Fight Over Engineer's Pay Predicted.

Bond commission controversy over sala y supplements for about 30 city salary supplements for about 30 city engineers engaged in supervising the $8,000,000 sanitary and storm relief sewer program for metropolitan Atlanta will be settled at a commission meeting Monday, it was predicted yesterday.

Following a meeting of a subcommittee of the commission to delve into the causes of the recommended $15,000 for engineering salary sup-

PREVENT DANGERS OF CONSTIPATION'

"Bulk" in ALL-BRAN Is Gentle in Action

Common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. You fail to get your internal exercise. Millions of people have found that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" with satisfactory results.

Tests in nutrition laboratories demonstrate that the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN can be used with the utmost confidence. Naturally, those few individuals with diseased or highly sensitive intestines should not take "bulk" in any form—either in leafy vegetables or in bran.

Unlike cathartics, ALL-BRAN is natural in its action—nor does this food lose its effectiveness with continued use. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and cleanses the intestines, promoting normal and healthful elimination. Two tablespoonfuls of this delicious cereal, served with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Enjoy it also in cooked dishes.

Help your family keep well. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle meals for all the home folks and for unexpected guests.

Try some of the following recipes:

Just remove the fish from two cans of sardines and arrange in sunburst fashion, tails out, around the edge of the platter or on individual dishes. Fill the center space with sliced cucumbers with the rind on, alternating with tomato. Garnish with lemon and parsley or watercess.

Trim and toast bread light brown. Butter. Cover with sardines, placing strips of bacon on top, and broil or bake in hot oven until bacon is isp.

Butter. Cover with sardines, placing strips of bacon on top, and broil or bake in hot oven until bacon is isp. Cut in desirable pieces and serve hot.

Buffet Bite.

Trim the crusts from thin toast and cut into cracker size pieces. Then with a fork break up the yellow and whites of hard-boiled eggs. Mix with sweet relish and salad dressing. Cut contents of one can of sardines in small pieces and add them to the egg mixture and spread the whole on your thin small pieces of toast. This spread is primarily an appetizer but it works excellently as a sandwich filling too—served between thinly sliced bread for afternoon tea or buffet supper.

Sardine Balls.

One can sardines, 2 large potatoes (boiled), 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, agg and parsley, from into small balls, roll in bread crumbs and fry in deep fat (385 degrees Fahrenheit) until brown. These are the most delicious fish balls you ever tasted.

She is expected to come to Atlanta soon to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr., and Mrs. George Nelson, of 497 East avenue, N. E. She arrived in Tokyo Wednesday morning as the revolt of a section of the Japanese army was at its height. Following is a story of her experiences.

By Mary KNIGHT, By Telephone From Tokyo to New York.

(Copyright, 1936, by United Press.)

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 28.—(UP)—1 arrived in Tokyo at 7:10 a. m. Wednesday to find myself right in the middle of a military rebellion. Ray Marshall, resident manager for the United Press, had been scheduled to meet me, but he did not appear and I was standing disconsolately among my bags, wondering what to do, when an excited American told me the army had rebelled.

I got a taxi to the Imperial hotel—it was snowing and my driver seemed to have some trouble findire his way through the streets—and found the lobby filled with excited guests, including scores of tourists.

Rumors Rife.

Nobody knew what was happening but everybody had heard a rumor. It turned out that most of the stories they had heard were correct—that the premier, the minister of finance, and other high officials had been murdered; that the rebellous troops held a considerable part of the government center of the capital, including the rime minister's official residence, the repositian police headquarters and big new parliament building which ands on a hill top about half a mile from the hotel.

As soon as I had brenkfast I got a taxi to the United Press office, which is in the Nippon Dempo news except building about two blocks from the hotel, across a canal.

Police Turn Fire on Communists and Socialist Demonstrations.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 27.

Radical demonstrations started this morning as a protest against the prosecution's actions in the trial of Anna Pauker and other communists charged with treason.

During the afternoon the rioting became general.

Police reinforcements, after vain efforts to quell the crowds with batons, finally fired several volleys.

The demonstrations were directed in part against Magda Lupescu, redhaired Jewess who has become notorious as the mistress of King Carol II.

Armored cars were called out shortly before midnight, and rumbled grimtly through the streets, bristling with machine guns. Police said, however, they were brought out merely as a "precaution" and that it was not likely the machine guns would be used.

Crowds paraded through many of the principal thoroughfares shouting imprecations at the government.

Groups from both the left and right wing radical parties were participating in the demonstrations and police feared they would begin fighting each other.

None of those wounded was hurt seriously.

one of those wounded was hurt

At midnight police said they were in control of the situation and that fire brigades had dispersed the moss by turning water on the rioters. Police denied shots were fired but newspapermen on the spot said they heard repeated volleys.

Public hatred of Mile. Lupescu has been increasing in recent weeks since she went to Paris to join King Carol after his visit to London to attend the funeral of the late King George V, of England.

I Cation TRADE MARK

Ladies, you yourselves have given Merita Bread its best advertisement—an advertisement which makes anything we may write seem unimportant—an advertisement that our most glowing phrases can never hope to equal. For, after all, what we may say about Merita is relatively unimportant. It is your opinion expressed in your purchases that stamps it with the seal of approval.

In 1935 you bought more Merita Bread than in any year save one in Merita's history. In 1935 you bought more Merita Bread by far than any other in the South. Your own definite expression of your preference for Merita has truly made that name the "Buy" Word for Bread.

Merita Bread bears the Seal of Acceptance of the Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association.

Much is being said and written now-a-days about vitamins, calories, etc. Many claims are being made for the therapeutic properties of many breads. Of Merita Bread we have only this to say: Merita is made of pure, wholesome ingredients selected for their ability to produce a nutritious and delicious loaf. We are proud that Merita bears the seal of the most reliable authority on nutrition as related to foods-the Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association.

TESTED BEFORE AND AFTER BAKING

Everything that goes into your loaf of Merita Bread-flour. shortening, milk, yeast-is tested carefully, impartially, in the South's finest bread laboratories before it is approved by Merita Bakers. But what's more important, every day in those same laboratories Merita Chemists test Merita Bread itself after it is baked. Test it for the perfect loaf of breadfor symmetrical form, for golden tender crust, for fragrant appetizing aroma. Then they cut it and test it for smooth, fine-grained crumb; for delicious, distinctive Baked-in Flavor. That is why Merita Bread is so uniformly good-why every loaf you buy is just like the one you bought yesterday-always top quality.

Ask your Grocer for Merita Bread

BAKED-IN FLAVOR

Hundreds of women have asked us how Merita achieves its distinct and zestful flavor. The answer is a number of things: (1) Rich ingredients, properly balanced to produce a perfect loaf; (2) Careful supervision of the dough when it is rising so that it reaches the ovens at the peak of its flavor; (3) The dough undergoes a special twisting process that tends to retain the flavor in the loaf as it bakes; (4) Slow, expert baking in moist ovens. No one of these things would be enough-but the combination of all of them produces a loaf unique for its goodness. A loaf that truly deserves to be described as Baked-in Flavor.

To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

ten that will give you the right answer. Every four years the primary problem of government is the election, but this year the problem is developing more priority and primitivity than usual.

OPPORTUNITY? You will never find a more evenly balanced example than the inside events leading up to President Roosevelt's yes-and-no veto of the seed loan bill.

What it is all about. These children are subjected to a method of torture far worse than the baby killing which was charged against the German infantry in the early days of the great war in cartoons depicting little bodies.

The White House spread the word are subjected to a method of torture far worse than the baby killing which was charged against the German infantry in the early days of the great war in cartoons depicting little bodies.

The White House spread the word among congressional leaders several days before that Mr. Roosevelt was going to crack down on such expenditures. Not only would he veto the $50,000,000 idea, but he would use the bill to promote the economizing line upon which he has been quietly working. It was a good opportunity because even the congressional leaders last year thought the seed loan policy was so bad that they promised it would never happen again. It puts the government in the very uneconomical position of handing seeds to the farmers with one hand while also paying him to curtail his production with the other.

COMPROMISE Soon there came to the White House on a trot no less a respected political authority than Senate Leader Robinson. No one knows exactly what he told the President, but everyone knows he comes from a region where seed loans are appreciated by a lot of people. These people just must have their seeds no matter who had said what, etc., etc.

But Mr. Roosevelt already had told congress he would not sign any extra-budgetary bills which did not carry taxes for raising the money.

Shrewd and capable Mr. Robinson figured that one out fast. worked out a compromise whereby he would get his seeds and Mr. Roosevelt his budget. The President could veto the $50,000,000 bill, and then spend whatever money was necessary for seed loans out of left-overs from the 1935 appropriations. That was done. Even a president cannot do what he would like to in a campaign year.

BACK-FIRE The technical inner aspects of General Hagood's removal have the same political background, but developed an entirely different twist.

A certain well-known anti-New Deal promotion agency was itching Adolf to use Hagood's reference to WPA "stage money" at the time it was made. The agency decided not to on the ground that it would not have been effective. It was filed away for future reference. It did not rest long in the file before Hagood was removed from

That made it entirely different material from a publicity standpoint. The free speech angle alone lifted it out of the realm of minor misdemeanors. Everyone able to read has now heard about it. Thus, whatever the merits of the disciplinary action, it became a major publicity blunder. Even New Deal publicity men are now bemoaning it as such in private. They are wondering who was responsible. They probably never will find out. CONSULTATIONS Mr. Roosevelt has been having unadvertised political conferences during the past few weeks. Many a legislator and prominent citizen who comes into the executive mansion on other business is asked to tarry for political consultation. When these visitors emerge, they announce the prime object of their business, but not the political aftermath.

A recent example was Senator Wheeler. He had a long talk with e chief executive, and published reports said that railroad legislation s discussed. It was, but that was only one-tenth of it.

If you happened to be on the quay at Alexandria, Egypt, these days, you would see proof of it in the harbor. Extensive dredging operations are under way.

It was not revealed at the time, but when Britain sent its warships into Alexandria at the height of the Italian tension, it was found the harbor would not hold them. The overflow had to be dispatched to Haifa. Also there was no reserve ammunition available at Alexandria then for the 16-inch guns of Britain's mightiest dreadnaughts, the Rodney If those two ships had used the ammunition they carried, and Nelson. they would have been at the mercy of the Italian fleet. It finally was shown that the German soldier Michael, as he was called at home, was the soul of kindness who often shared his rations with the wais behind the Belgian lines and reasonable people on the Allied side of the fight ultimately admitted that the charge was false.

Ingenious Hitler's torture of the Jewish children is even more ingenious, however for he has invented a way to convert the period of childhood into a ferm of unrelieved sorrow, fear, dread and suffering. It is commonly accepted among the civilized peoples of the world that any man who would inflict suffering on a child wantonly or for the purpose of avenging seme offense, real or imaginary, attributed to the child's parents, or for any other reason, is not quite right mentally and ought to be put away.

We had a case of that kind in New York recently—an old man who tor-tured and killed a little girl for the pleasure it gave him, and public opin-ion pretty well agreed that he was in-sane. But even in that case the suf-fering of the little girl was of short duration. Then she was dead. Hitnational policy.

A Free Lion Can't Teach Philosophy To a Fox Caught in a Trap

When two races, factions or families fight to the point of exhaustion md then make peace, one is usually magnanimous and forgiving while the other nurses a bitter and undying hate.

Why the difference? It isn't a difference of temperament and character. In one case the bitterness of conflict is forgotten in the joy and pride of victory, while in the other it is made everlasting by the shame of defeat.

Man's fight against his fate, the world and the devil has precisely the same effect.

Observe some celebrity who seems always calm and sure, affable and plerant, unafraid, amused and indifferent to criticism. What makes him generous and so manly?

He is that way because he is sitting on top of the world. Because his illustrious family, he feels superior to people of humble birth; because he is a university graduate, he feels superior to the uneducated because he is rich, he feels superior to the poor; and because he is more than six feet tall, he feels superior to the many who are shorter. He can afford to be tolerant, as a big dog is tolerant of a small one.

Still, you will say, many a university graduate of excellent family, blessed with a sound body and brilliant mind, becomes a cynic before he is 30 and scorns the world and all that is in it. What of him?

The answer is that he has sore spots. A youth of poverty explains his contempt for the rich. He despises burly athletes because he is six inches short of six feet. He feels contempt for greedy go-getters because he has no knack for business. The only things he respects are good blood and education. He has these

In the interim bankers studied the sheet with a view to determining whether about $300,000, needed to meet the pay roll next Thursday for 3,000 municipal employes, will be loaned.

Key, Councilman Aubrey Milam, chairman of the finance committee, and City Comptroller B. Graham West conferred yesterday, but Key appeared not to be perturbed about the report of Ham Eidson, city auditor, that the 1938 sheet is $447,000 out of balance.

Included in Eidson's figures were $106,000 added to the deficit to match federal appropriations for about $500.000.

The city council of Atlanta Monday will decide whether or not it will accept $150,000 from the Coca-Cola International Corporation as full payment for the city's back tax claims.

Councilman Aubrey Milam, chairman of the finance committee, conferred with Mayor Key yesterday and informed the mayor Key yesterday and informed the mayor the corporation's offer had the approval of the finance committee.

ofter had the approval of the finance committee.

Key said he did not approve of payment of a $15,000 fee to Tax Investigator John Armistead and declared $10,000 would be sufficient. Milam said he would insist that the agreed 10 per cent commission be paid Armistead.

The city's tax claim is for the same period and amount as the county settled for $150,000.

It was Acting Chief Hornsby who told the committee, repeating testimony at hearings prior to the suspension of the chief, that Chief Sturdi-

3. That the charge fails to cite what cause Sturdivant had to apprehend the car in question, that no charge was carried showing where and on what streets the car was used in the illegal transportation of liquor and on the ground that there is no allegation that Sturdivant knew of any illegal use of the machine.

Filed on Second Charge.

4. The same demurrer was filed to the charge that a second car was released by Sturdivant to Owens.

5. That the charges of incompetence and indefinite and are so insufficient that Sturdivant cannot prepare a proper defense to them, that no allegation as what proper order and discipline in the police department Sturdivant failed to maintain is contained in the charges and that they are vague and indefinite, that no specific charges are made and no specific instances recited whrein Stur-vant had ordered the release of the cars to Owens despite the fact that the books showed that they were being impounded for "whisky.' It was not definisely brought out whether or not the cars had been used to haul whisky or that it was merely suspected that they were used. This was a contention in the demurrer, Finch intimating that he would prove that the cars should not have been held because the evidence was insufficient to prove that they actually had carried whisky.

Pendley, now a member of the vice squad, told of the scores of raids he and his colleagues have made, tailing them to the committee. He reported that the squad of which he is now a member had made from 150 to 175 arrests since the suspension of Sturdivant.

reported that the squad of which he is now a member had made from 150 to 175 arrests since the suspension of Sturdivant.

Chief Sturdivant, in civilian clothes, sat with Finch at the counsel table. Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, also under suspension and awaiting trial on charges of inefficiency, was not present. William Schley Howard and W. Paul Carpenter, Poole's attorneys, were in the crowd which overflowed the recorder's courtroom. These two lawyers made numerous notes during the proceedings.

Determination to speed up proceedings was evidenced, and the testimony of unexpected witnesses and the line of questioning which was being followed indicated that despite the apparent determination of committee members to make short work of the hearing, it will be a long-drawn-out and tedious process, fought bitterly every step of the way.

Finch made the following points in is demurrer:

1. Objection to the charge that Sturdivant released a liquor car to Ral-h Owens, "a person suspected of being engaged in the illegal traffic in whisky," on the grounds that such an allegation was irrevelant.

2. That it is not alleged who suspected Owens of being engaged in the illegal traffic in whisky," on the grounds that such an allegation was irrevelant.

3. That the charge fails to cite what cause Sturdivant had to apprehend the car in question, that no head of alleged liquor returned, she countered with:

"It wouldn't have done any good."

The appeal of the hotel men was made after two policewomen had been fired and Detectives John Davis and A. B. McNaughton had been shifted from hotel beats. Other men were assigned to the beats, but DeJarnette told committee members they did not spend enough time in the hotels because of other duties to adequately protect them. DeJarnette emphasized that the hotel men were not trying to run the police department, but felt they were entitled to proper protection. Under cross-examination, he admitted to Finch that two house men had been fired for "inefficiency" when Finch attempted to elicit an admission that they were ousted for "grafting—for getting commissions from women."

Delegation "Abused."

To a question by Couch, DeJarnette enail Sturdivant and First Assistant Chief of Police A. Lamar Poole, in charge of detectives, who also is under suspension on charges of being inefficient and incompetent.

"When I first came on the committee, Chief Poole was on from 4 p. m. until midnight," Milam said. "All he had to do was answer the telephone. It was through my efforts that he was placed again in charge of the detective bureau, and specification and prove to eliminate factionalism between Chief Sturdivant and First Assistant Chief Police A. Pendley was questioned regarding factionalism, but disclaimed any di-rect knowledge that such existed between Poole and Sturdivant.

Under cross-examination, he said there were reports that such existed, and that certain men were known as Sturdivant men and others as Poole men. When asked if there was a Pendley faction, he replied:

"I've never heard of that, but there seems to be an anti-Pendley faction." He referred to his recent demotion as secretary to Sturdivant.

Reporter Testifies.

Rolfe Edmondson, reporter, was questioned concerning an interview with Sturdivant regarding the release of an impounded liquor car to Owens. He quoted the chief as saying that the department head was given discretiondepartment head was given discretionary powers under the law and that he had used it in that instance.

Councilman Couch questioned the acting chief about reports of factionalism in the department, these reports centering about groups supporting Chief Sturdivant and Chief Poole.

Finch is working alone. Sam Hewlett, the chief's other lawyer, is down in Florida and could not be here for the opening of the trial. Hewlett's forte, anyway, is the closing argument in a trial. ATLANTA THEATER NEWS

'The Petrified Forest'

Robert Emmet Sherwood's stage play, "The Petrified Forest," which ran all last season on Broadway to crowded houses, comes to the Paramount theater today in the screen version produced by Warner Brothers.

Leslie Howard and Bette Davis, who gave such stering performances in "Of Human Bondage," are playing the stellar roles in the picture. They to be followed by the club in combating traffic hazards in the city. The club previously has made known that it is in favor of a city traffic commissioner, removed from political influence, a rerouting of some of the traffic lanes of the city and application of some of the conclusions of a study of Atlanta traffic conditions recently completed here at an expense of about $45,000 to the federal government.

An immediate fight for creation of the new post of traffic commissioner will be advocated at the meeting this afternoon, according to Mr. McLarty. Heads of various civic, business and professional clubs of the city nave been invited to attend the meeting and more than 50 club leaders have sent enthusiastic acceptances, according to the motor club president.

A dozen or so were considering rejecting matrimonial pleas from young men whose incomes are not low enough to enable them to live there.

All agreed that the government was this, where the money will find its way back into the United States treasury while small income families are given the opportunity to move out of shacks and collapsing tenements into such admirable surroundings.

Questions Come Fast. With the 35 girls gathered around him, D. A. Calhoun, district manager of the housing division of the Public Works Administration, and Harold Wey, management supervisor of the slum clearance project out on Technood drive, were reeling under a rapid fire of questions that would have shamed a most competent district attorney.

"How does the government get its money back?"
"How will you handle families with destructive children?"
"How many persons will you average per room?"
"How do you supply heat; who pays for the heat?"
"Will you examine the responsibility of each prospective tenant? How will you do that?"

The "moneyed interests" which clamored for President Roosevelt to save the country from the depression in 1933 but which have since turned against their benefactor were bitterly criticized by Marion Allen, Georgia campaign manager for the President, in an address before the Friends of Roosevelt Club at a luncheon yesterday. Allen and his wife were honor guests.

"On their knees a few big rich men begged Roosevelt to bring them relief when he was inaugurated in 1933," Allen asserted. "Now those same few are fighting against the one person who saved the United States from utter ruin." Allen said Georgia would vote over

Alen said Georgia would vote over-whelmingly for Roosevelt if a state primary is held, and he added that he was "moving heaven and earth" to force the democratic committee of Georgia to hold a presidential pref-

Secretary Morgenthau made this announcement regarding the financing program a few hours before tonight's White House conference, with the two tying together into assurances that the big outlays of the next year will be covered by usual methods of raising

As the result of big cash borrowings in December, still unexpended, the balance today was nearly $1,000,000,000 not including some $400.000,000 set aside for retirement of national bank notes. March tax collections in excess of expenditures were expected to increase it still further. It became apparent with today's announcement that the treasury is looking at future needs and taking advantage of what it considers a favorable present condition in the money market to pile up funds for meeting them, despite the otherwise unnecessary cost of interest charges while the money lies unused in the treasury.

REPORT SHOWS WORK OF WELFARE SOCIETY

Judge Humphries, Dr. Young Address Annual Meeting of Group.

Atlanta Welfare Society served 1,457 families last year, especially by settling rifts between husbands and wives and between parents and children, it was revealed in the report of Miss Rhoda Kaufman, executive secretary, at the annual meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon. Judge John D. Humphries discussed how the society aided the courts in domestic relations cases, and Dr. W. W. Young, psychiatrist, spoke 'Mental Hygiene and Family Life.' Officers for 1936 were elected. The society is primarily a family service agency with relief incidental to treatment, Miss Kaufman explained in her report. From a sociological point of view, she said, it is intended to take social work a step further than merely providing families with material assistance. The society, she material assistance. The society, she pointed out, has experts to study the causes of personal and family maladjustments and to offer remedies.

In telling of the society's co-operation with other organizations and agencies in charity work, Miss Kaufman commended The Constitution for its series of articles during Christmas entitled "Ten Opportunities," by which it provided families with a happy Christmas and sustenance for a year.

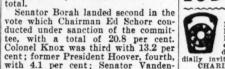

happy Christmas and sustenance for a year.

"Problem children" generally are the result of some unhealthy twist in their home life, Dr. Young said. The country should have laws, he said, but it should not look on laws as a solution to social problems.

Officers elected were W. A. Sutherland, president; E. Ralph Paris, J. C. Malone, Mrs. Lawrence Willet, vice presidents; Edgar Watkins Jr., treasurer, and Miss Rhoda Kaufman, executive secretary. Those named man, executive secretary. Those named as new members of the board were Mrs. Albert Howell Jr., Eugene Gun-by, Frank Carter, Isobel Johnston and Hurd Crain.

Governor Landon's refusal was made in spite of a state-wide poll of approximately 10,000 republicans which gave him 56.3 per cent of the berg, fifth, with 2.9 per cent, and Senator Dickinson, sixth, with .6 per cent. Scattering votes totaled 2 per cent.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.
GEORGIA—Fulton County.
To the Superior Court of Said State and County:
The petition of CLARK HOWELL JR..
JOHN T. TOLER, H. H. TROTTI and A. J. KAISER, respectfully shows to the court:

1. Petitioners desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns to be incorporated under the name of THEATRE SERVICE INCORPORATED or a peried of twenty (20) years with the privilege of renewal at the end of that or a period of twenty (20) years with the privilege of renewal at the end of that time.

2. The principal office and place of business of said corporation shall be in Fulton County, Georgia.

3. The object of said corporation is pecuniary gain.

4. The business to be arried on by the corporation is to own, operate, lease, sell ann trade 1. motor vehicles, motor trucks, certificates of public service and convenience, and the business of n. tor transportation, both within and without the State of Georgia, along with the ownership, leasing and operation of all proper facilities in connection with such business; to transport for hire both property and persons as a common private or contract carrier, and to do any and all things necessary and proper in connection with said purposes; to sell and deal in automobiles, and trucks; to acquire, hold, or lease real estate or any interest therein; to establish branch offices elsewhere as the need may arise, and to have such rights and privileges as may lawfully be enjoyed by similar corporations.

5. The capital stock of said corporation ence divided interest among politicians here today with the announcement from Ohio that the regular republican organization will run a favorite son against Senator Borah, of Idaho, in stand at approximately $31,850,000,000.

This is for the reason that on March 15, the treasury plans to borrow $559,000,000 with which it will retire an equivalent amount of securities maturing on April 15. On the latter date, the debt will revert to its $31,300,000,000 level.

In addition to the $800,000,000 in new borrowing and the $559,000,000 in to meet April 15 maturities, $450,10 000,000 will be sought to meet an in equivalent amount of securities comping due then.

The latter consist of nine issues of treasury bills put out from time to time last fall. At that time the then under secretary of the treasury, Thomas Jefferson Collidge, said he was deliberately piling up the March 15 maturities, so that short-term borrowing could then be converted into long-term paper.

The holders of the bills will be paid in cash, instead of by a trade of bonds for bills, as the latter bear no conversion privileges, with the cash coming from the sale of the new securities.

The character of the latter remain to be announced on Monday, but it was generally expected they would be divided into shares of the converted into two issues—one of four to five-year paper and another of ten to twelve year maturity.

Celebration of George Washington's birthday was begun during his life-time—by New York's Tammany Hall.

State Rights!

Confederate charge at Cemetery Hill

A Battle Cry in 1861— Still an Issue in 1936?

Ever since the days of Hamilton and Jefferson the issue of State Rights has been a bone of contention in national affairs. It was a major cause of the War of the States in 1861. Dormant for some time, the issue recently came into prominence again when the Supreme Court invoked State Rights as a reason for invalidating the New Deal's AAA program.

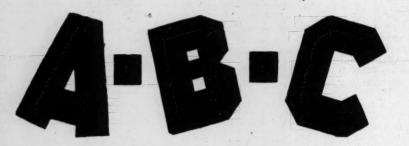

.Comment by the two major political parties on that decision indicates that their traditional positions on the question may be changing. Is that the case? If so, how do the voters of the nation feel? Do they favor concentration of power in the Federal Government or in the State-Governments?

A new nation-wide poll conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion has determined exactly what the voters are thinking about the matter. You'll be interested to read their opinions in

I can get nothing but good reports about it.

They have tissue cream, cleansing cream, face powder, lipstick, a liquefying cleansing cream for oily skins, both a cream and a dry rouge and an astringent and skin toner. Each of these products is the same price—an amazingly low one.

There are various reasons for high prices in cosmetics. One may be the container, and often is that. Another may be some rare oil that a cream contains and still another may be that there are certain women who will not buy anything unless it costs a lot of

Seven Sub-Debs Are Appointed Local U.D. C. Group | Conducts Judging School Today For Seminary Round Table Honor Will Build Cottage By Sally Forth.

TO SEVEN young Atlantans and an attractive out-of-towner has gone the unusual honor of becoming automatically members of the Senior Round Table at Washington Seminary. For Jane Franklin, Tommie Quin, Alma Knight, of Busord: Margaret Harrison, Peggy Hughes, Barbara Greene, Marion Walker and Eugenie Williams became members of this extraordinary circle at a recent meeting of the faculty of that institution.

The requirements for this selection cover every field of scholastic and social activity at the school, and only students having an average of A plus and B in both studies and activities are eligible. This recognition is a symbol of the girl's popularity among fellow students, interest in school affairs, and high rating in classes.

YOLANDE GWIN, a popular former member of the fourth estate in Atlanta who has taken up her duties as a mem-ber of the staff of a prominent Washington, D. C., newspaper, finds the social life in the national capital quite as strenuous as that here. For Yolande's endearing personality and charm have already made her a host of friends, in addition to her former acquaintances there.

She was the guest of Congress-man and Mrs. Frank Whelchel at the Georgia Society ball, which was held recently at a Washington hotel. Congressman Whelchel is the new president of the society, and is quite prominent in political affairs. It was a pleasant surprise for the former Atlantan find among those present at the ball, which was preceded by the Emory Glee Club concert, none other than Ida Akers. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Akers, and Theresa Hangar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hangar, of Atlanta.

Elizabeth Everett, of New York, the charming cousin of Elizabeth Wilmot, both of whom were popular debutantes in Atlanta this past season, visited her aunt, Dorothy Moran, at her apartment in Washington recently, and while she was there, they invited Yolande to a cocktail party. They had a delightful time and felt as if they were back in Atlanta again.

Yolande has made many friends among prominent Washingtonians, and she divides her time between her new journalistic duties and a round of enjoyable social affairs with her new-found friends.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion P'ayer and Greatest Card Analyst.

Defending Part-Score Bids.

A great many players have a lamentable habit of relaxing when defending against a par-score contract. Granting that a game or rubber is not involved, it still is extremely shortsighted to permit the fulfilment of a contract that may give the oppo-nents a decided advantage on the next nents a decided advantage on the next hand. Some of the greatest tragedies at the bridge table result from desperate efforts to "boost" a team that has a part-score on which to lean. It seems a somewhat safer philosophy to try to defeat the previous part-score contract and start the next hand "at scratch."

Excellent Defense.

In today's hand the defenders were faced with nothing more terrifying than a two-club contrast on a love score. Nevertheless they remained alert and not only gained 90 points but kept "below the line" clear.

The bidding: North West East South 1 heart Pass Pass 1 spade Pass 2 clubs [final bid] 1 no trump Pass North opened the ace of diamonds and South signaled with the nine. Two more diamond tricks were cashed and South then led a small heart. Dumny's queen won. Two rounds of trumps, the king and queen winning, were followed by a low spade to the jack. North hopped up with the king and returned a trump. Dumny's jack won and the jack of spades was played. South won the ace and made the killing lead of the thirteenth diamond. Declarer was helpless, It made no difference whether he trumped in his own hand or in dummy. Actually he trumped, but North discarded his spade and had a trump left to kill West's high spade lead, insuring that dummy's fourth heart must be lost to South's ten. Had declarer discarded a spade, North would have let go a heart, preventing dumny from cash-

The national organization of associated grocers is only a year and a half old, but, according to Mr. Sand, is now the world's largest distributor of food. The organization is composed of 20,650 retail grocers and 92 warehouse units in various sections of the country.

The purpose of the national setup, Mr. Sand declared, is to allow the individual grocer to buy and sell on the same basis that large chain stores do.

Be it ever so humble ... it's probably a movie star's abode!

Wrong again, Watson! All the homes in Hollywood are not sixteen-room, Italian villas. We hope you'll not be too disappointed when you learn that a great many of the film celebrities live in small, unpretentious homes very much like your own. According to our Hollywood sleuth. the "for rent" sign hangs on several "celluloidcastles" . . . the owners having retired to the more simple and less expensive living in a small "homey" home. Screen & Radio Weekly brings you an engrossing story about all this next, week. It's a story you'll enjoy reading.)

Myrna LOY.

My, my, Myrna . . . what an interesting variety of husbands you've d... in pictures at least. According to a Screen & Radio Weekly reporter with a flair for statistics, Myrna has had three husbands and been married to the same man four times! Yet she has never appeared at the license bureau nor tossed a bridal bouquet. You'll want to read about Myrna Loy in next week's Screen & Radio Weekly.

When you wish you were a movie star ... and you are ... then what does a movie star wish for? Screen & Radio Weekly tells you next week.

"It's WIT, not 'IT' ... that's the keynote of popularity!"

Girls, here's some sage advice from Jeanette MacDonald, lovely star of "Rose Marie." She says, "Beauty is not so rare as it used to be, but humor and gayety are still at a premium." If you aspire to greater popularity, one of the first things you ought to do is read the instructive article by Miss MacDonald in next week's Screen & Radio Weekly.

"Don't you want your husband to be definite, Page? . . I'm sorry."

Something in the hesitating yet infinitely tender tone, something of possession and domination, brought the hot blood to her face. Page was not laughing as she said, "That's it, you see. I've known you—one way all these months — and now you're changed. You were always just Lynn, who didn't count—nobody paid much attention to you—"

"You did," he reminded her quite seriously as she paused.

"Oh, well—I—yes. I did," Page stammered, "because I was so sorry for you! Just tell me," she recommenced, smiling gallantly and blinking to keep the moisture from her eyes, "just tell me that you remember about that day—10 days ago, the day after the operation—?"

"The day we were married, Page?"

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Chinese-style theater in Hollywood.

It is common to have a "prolog" or an important picture. In one for an important picture. In one case, the prolog almost led to serious trouble. It was at the showing of the picture called "Noah's Ark." A trouble. It was at the showing of the picture called "Noah's Ark." A large ark was set up on the stage, and animals of many kinds were placed in it—a pair of elephants, a pair of camels, a pair of zebras and so on. Suddenly one of the camels slipped and went off the edge of a landing. It was not badly hurt, but became lodged in the opening and could not move. The poor animal set up a noise, and this led one of the elephants to begin to trumpet. There was fear that the elephant would break loose and charge somewhere, but the keepers were able to prevent that.

VISITS IN CALIFORNIA.

X—More About Hollywood.

Among the sights of Hollywood are two costly moving-picture theaters, one of them built along the lines of an Egyptian temple, and the other of Chinese style. These theaters have been used for the first run of many movies made in Hollywood. On "first nights" people line the sidewalks, trying to obtain a view of famous stars as they arrive at the theater.

Someone telephone to the fire department, and fire trucks came clanging to the scene. Firemen hoisted the camel to safety, the curtain rose, and finished the overture, and then had kept on playing more music, but few of any in the audience knew what had gone on behind the curtain. In making moving pictures, there sometimes is danger to the players. Several months ago. Charles Binford was handling—or trying to handle—a lion when the animal bit him. He did not faint but, as I am told, "just punched the lion in the nose," making it let go.

Many pictures are made with the use of small models. Thus it may seem that two airplanes are crashing in mid-air, but the planes really are of toy size. What looks like the sinking of a great ship, when seen on the screen, really was the sinking of a small model in a tank. Tiny figures stand for people on the ship, and waves are made by shaking the water n the tank. Clever directors and caeramen manage this so that the picture looks as though it had been taken from "real life."

So-called comedies sometimes show a "dare-devil" motorist dashing through a city street at what seems a fearful speed. Really the automobile may be going only 12 or 15 miles an hour. The trick can be performed by taking a smaller number of pictures per second than is usual. This makes the motion seem more rapid when the pictures are shown. Many pictures are made with the pennant, with Norman (The Tabasco Kid) Elberfeld as manager. The Kid was around yesterday, still looking like the Kid of old despite the fact that 61 summers have skidded past for him. His baseball school opens here Monday. And he is still agile enough to play a few innings.

The Tabasco Kid was in the New York-Detroit game in 1905 when Ty Cobb made his debut as a big league player. The Kid was at shortstop for the Yankees. He was hitting third, just behind Willie Keeler.

No one paid much attention to Ty Cobb that day. He was ust another busher breaking in. But the idea is to give an idea of how long The Kid has been around in affairs mundane. "Kid," I asked, "who was the greatest pitcher you ever

He came right back without a bit of hesitation.

'Moses Yellowhorse. He was the best I ever set my eyes

Moses Yellowhorse was an Indian Brave who came to The Kid at Little Rock from an Indian school. He and Rube Robinson, the veteran left-hander, won a total of 47 games that year.

Which helps explain why The Kid calls Rube Robinson the greatest left-hander the Southern league ever had.

But for Moses Yellowhorse he reserves the title of the greatest pitcher on whom he ever put eyes, in this or any other

HEAP BIG INJUN.

"Yellowhorse had perfect control," The Kid recalled. "Lots of times I'd hold up my hand for him to pitch at and he'd never miss it by more than an inch or so. Most of the time I had to jerk it away to keep him from hitting my hand. He didn't know what it was to be wild.

"He had a funny breaking curve ball and a great change of pace. He went to Pittsburgh and you'll still hear some of the old-time fans yell, 'Get a Yellowhorse.

It was fire water which ruined the Indian. He had, according to The Kid, a weakness for it. And it cut short a great

"But," said The Kid, "Mathewson, Alexander, Johnson and all the rest, never had all that Moses Yellowhorse owned."

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

The Kid came along in the good old days. They were the brawling, fighting days when ball players were more concerned with winning than with salaries.

He played with the men who made the game what it is. The modern players have lost the old tradition but retain the skill. The Kid played in the days when the fans in rival towns threw ripe vegetables and even a few bricks at the visiting players as they rode to the games on the tallyho.

The old record books, which contained a section of notes which the modern guides do not carry, include Kid Elberfeld's name very frequently. He was mentioned almost invariably as having been chased from the field for fighting with umpires. They were the traditional foe.

The Kid is one of the smallest men who ever played baseball, being slighter even than Johnny Evers. He fought probably a million fights and never won a one.

I recall him in this league. He was fiery and he fought for his baseball rights. His bench was a curious thing. It included always several friends and for years "Cecil" was the Cecil was a small colored boy. He was thought to be very lucky and the rival managers used to try and kidnap Cecil.

Arrival of The Kid's team was a signal for the rival manager to watch the baseballs. The Kid's team liked to come in with two or three scuffed up baseballs and leave town with a bag full. (The home club furnishes the baseballs for each game.)

Dear me, I must be getting old! But those days were interesting. I wonder what's become of Cecil. He's grown now. I hope he's been lucky. I recall seeing his eyes as they stowed him away on the Pullman. He'd crawl under a seat and by bending down one could see Cecil's eyes big in the darkness under the seat.

The Case of Jones.

After a long layoff Bobby Jones returned to the pressure of tournament play two years ago and found he had left his putting touch somewhere back and from all indication the competialong the road.

In the first of the master tournaments Bobby finished in a tie for eleventh lace.

Last year he finished even further away. On each occasion he had played no particular amount of winter golf to get ready.

Most of his spare time had been used up in hunting. He missed the old consistency, especially around the greens, that carried him so far.

It might be mentioned here that Bobby Jones as one of the few who didn't expect to make any great showing. He knew the wide gap between the first round of play:

North Side Aces vs. O'Keefe Panthers, 18:30 p. m.

Fulton Farmers vs. West End Ramblers, 8 p. m.

ring. He knew the wide gap between friendly golf and tournament play against a crack field.

In spite of this the Atlanta star was deeply disappointed in his own the star was the star play. The mechanics of his game are well as ever.

Only recently he turned in a 69 over the extremely tough Indian Creek course at Miami Berch. He has been playing well in Florida. He still has that same satiny swing, smooth as a southern breeze. And his putting touch has come back in much better shape.

It remains to be seen whether he can get going again under the strain that always follows tournament play. A Big Show.

The master's tournament this year romises to be one of the best of the olfing shows. Gene Sarazen will be back to defend

NEW METHOD FOUND

Recent Discoveries Reported by U. S. Public Health

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 .- (UP)-WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(UP)—
A new technique which gives a "protective effect" against infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness has been tested successfully on mice and monkeys, it was learned tonight.
Drs. Charles Armstrong and W. T.

Drs. Charles Armstrong and W. L. Harrison, both connected with the research laboratories of the United States Public Health Service, found that a .32 to .64 per cent of picric acid—a yellow pawder, one may buy at a drugstore—dropped into the nostrils tended to prevent infection of mice with the St. Louis type of sleeping sickness and monkeys with intaning sickness and monkeys with intan Paralysis Outbreak.

For several years doctors have sought to control these two "plagues" of modern civilization. The outbreak of sleeping sickness in St. Louis, which claimed more than 100 victims which claimed more than 100 victims while physicians were powerless to curb the epidemic, started research into this little-known disease. An infantile paralysis outbreak which moved from South Carolina to New York along the Atlantic coast last year left a toll of hundreds crippled and scores dead.

Last year Dr. Armstrong, who is known as the "human guinea pig" because he contracted several of the diseases on which he was experimenting, announced that a 4 per cent solution of alum sprayed into the nose had cut down the number of cases of infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness.

of alum sprayed into the nose had cut down the number of cases of infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness in laboratory animals.

A report on his more recent work, which has not yet been published, shows that the picric acid solution is even more successful. One injection into the nose gives immunity for at least four to seven days. The immunity, however, is not 100 per cent, but is effective in from 30 to 80 per cent of the animals treated.

Pieric acid is an ordinary drug. A quarter's worth would last for a month's treatment.

Enters Nervous System.

Physicians generally agree that the irrus of these two diseases enter the nervous system through the mucous membrane. They say that these nasal membranes are the only place in the body where the nervous system is on the surface. Small halfilke projections from the brain go to the membrane.

Discussing action of the picric acid, the report of the two research workers says:

"Picric acid, as here employed, apparently produced no general ill effects in mice or monkeys: neither did it produce changes detectable by ordinary pathological methods in the nasal mucous membranes of the latter, That it exerts protection through a local action is, however, indicated by the fact that picric acid intranasally administered to mice apparently affords no protection against intracerebrally alocalized virus.

This congares with $1.221,927.91 for the fact that picric acid intranasally administered to mice apparently affords no protection against intracerebrally alocalized virus.

This local action is the nasal membranes which render them less permeable to the virus, although it is conceivable that the drug, either free or united with the cells of these structures, may exert a direct effect upon the virus itself."

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27 .- (P)-Prices worked two to six points lower in a dull and featureless session in the cotton futures market today. The market closed steady around the lows for the day after showing but slight fluctuations. Scattered hedge selling and some trade buying were credited with the little activity shown. Still awaiting final determination of the government's program for the cotton farmer next year and displaying nervousness over the international outlook, speculative interest in the market was held in check. Liverpool came in much worse than due but the opening here did not fully respond to it, though prices were un-changed to seven points down on months other than March which opened three points higher than the pre-vious close.

Total Issues 910 NEW YORK, Feb. 27 .- (A)-Traders stepped into the stock market in the final hour today and whirled steels, rails and industrial specialties up 1 to 4 or more points.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 shares the market advanced 1.3 points to 61.8. Transactions totaled 2.317.507 shares against 2,023,055 on Wednesday.

Brokers said the market had much bullish food for thought.

To the fore in the minds of the fi-nancial district, they said, was the proposed entry to the capital market by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corpora-tion in quest of the largest sum of "new" money so far recorded under the securities act—$31,000,000. Added to this as a marekt factor were a number of other sturdy props

A dividend of 25 cents a share for Anaconda common, the first since 1931: 1935 earnings for the company 1931; 1935 earnings for the company equal to $1.29 a share against 22 cents in 1934.

Another boost of .05 of a cent a pound in the price of lead by two major metal companies—the second in two days.

A gain of 8.9 per cent in the bank clearings for 22 leading cities over the like period last year.

STOCK OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—The tax bill appears to see the only thing that might stop improvement shown Thursday.

BEER & CO.—Thursday's action was decidedly encouraging to those bullishly in-clined. Some hesitancy can be expected, however, as prices approach their former resistance levels.

FENNER & BEANE—It is not unlikely FENNER & BEANE—It is not unlikely that in the near future the market's shilly to penetrate the high point as measured by the Dow-Jones averages may be tested. Meanwhile, the immediate price trend will probably reflect the outcome of the discussions relative to a new revenue programscheduled to be held in Washington.

DOBBS & CO.—Thursday's stock market came back even quicker than it went down the two previous days. It was a jump opening in a great number of cases and a good tone was continued throughout the day.

COURTS & CO.—Rumors of a 3-cent-per-pound tax on cotton are unsettling and un-til the government program is completed we would expect little movement. BEER & CO.—Traders can find no incen-tive to either buying or selling pending final passage of the agriculture bill by congress.

FENNER & BEANE-Events in Washing-CO.—We continue to expect an increased demand on breaks below 10 cents for the new crop but doubt whether buyers will follow up advances aggressively at present.

COURTS & CO.—Failure of the to extend southwestward has brought realizing sales in wheat but the general attude is much more favorable to the markets than in quite some time.

BEER & CO.—We favor purchases of May

FENNER & BEANE—We believe the May

EDUCATORS MAP PLAN FOR SCHOOL TRAINING

Speakers Urge Teaching of Fascism and Communism in U. S. Institutions.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27 .- (AP)-The nation's educators, concluding one of the most militant sessions in the history of the public schools, tonight were pledged to campaign for academic freedom as a safeguard of democracy.

Speakers at the closing meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Education Association urged that controversial contemporary issues—including fascism, communism and the New Deal—be taught in the classroom so that students "may learn to sift truth from propaganda."

Most of the 8,000 educators present favored continuance of federal aid advention but several warned to education but several warned against the possibility of federal dic-tatorship.

Strayer Flays Deal.

Or. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University, charged the federal government was using its education expenditures to spread class and partisan propaganda.

"It is high time that we demand that the complete control of education, free from interference or domination by the federal government, be returned to the people of the several states," he said.

Will Durant, philosopher and lecturer, during a discussion on the "create in American civilization" critipropaganda.

"crisis in American civilization" criti-cized the nation's schools for "frag-mentation."
"Our schools have been so busy pro-our schools have been so busy promoting intellect," he said, "that the growth of character has slipped through their fingers.

"The emphasis is too much on specialized training and too little on broad morality. We have been too interested in teaching the student knowledge and not enough interested in edge and not enough interested in making a good man of him.

Unscrupulous Generations.

"As a result we have reared the most unscrupulous generation in all history."

history."
Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald Fund, pleaded for less discrimination in the educational opportunities afforded negro children "The average negro child gets only about one-quarter as much schooling as his southern white neighbor, and only one-eighth the schooling which the nation as a whole deems proper for its children," he said.

COURT ASKED TO BAR NEW REYNOLDS SUITS

Approval of Settlement in Long-Disputed Will Case Is Sought.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27 .- (A)-The courts of Maryland were asked today to keep the Reynolds family, North Carolina tobacco heirs, from being plunged into a "cauldron of scandalous litigation."

The appeals were made in circuit court here by attorneys representing members of the family of the late R. J. Reynolds, founder of the tobaco fortune. Judge Eli Frank was asked to approve a settlement already agreed to approve a settlement already agreed upon by the family and approved by the North Carolina courts.

Arguments of counsel were virtually completed today and the hearing will be resumed tomorrow. Judge Frank said he had heard that counsel would be completed to the counsel of wanted the case cleared up by the middle of March and that he would "get right after" his decision.

The settlement provides that the Smith Reynolds estate, estimated at $25,000,000, should be divided as follows:

Twenty-five per cent to Libby Holman Reynolds' child; 37 1-2 per cent to Anne Cannon Reynolds, II; 8750,000 to Libby Holman Reynolds and the remainder to Smith Reynolds' the remainder to Smith Reynolds' brothers and sisters.

The Maryland courts entered the case because the Safe Deposit and Trust Company are trustees for the estates of R. J. Reynolds and his wife. Since Smith Reynolds died before he received his share of the estate outright, the trust company still retains the management of it.

EMPLOYMENT GAIN REPORTED BY U. S.

23 Leading Industries Show Increase of 2.4 Per Cent Over 1934.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(P)— Figures gathered by the Department of Labor showed today that employ-ment in 23 leading industries for last year made a gain of 2.9 per cent over 1934.

Pay rolls of these 23 industries, the records further showed, gained 11.6 per cent during the same time.

The statistics showed the lumber mills, automobile plants and machinery manufacturing concrns led in employment increases, the lumber mills heading them all with a jump of 1s per cent.

per cent.
Employment fell off most in the tobacco manufacturing group, dropping 7.5 per cent, and in the food manufacturing group, which decreased 4.9

recent.

The lumber mills also led in increased pay rolls, their total wages showing an increase of 41 per cent. The only industries showing a decrease were the food manufacturing and tobacco manufacturing industries.

CASTELLOW PROTESTS

SEED LOAN BILL VETO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—In a speech on the floor of the house, Representative Bryant Castellow, of Georgia, today joined forces with those protesting the action of President Rossevelt in vetoing the Smith-Fulmer $40,000,000 seed loan bill.

He said he had received a letter from I. J. Lunsford, of his district, expressing the hope that "the Georgia delegation will exert every effort to have the necessary funds supplied as it will soon be planting time here, and unless some assurance is given that the money will be forthcoming many farmers will not be able to obtain fertilizers."

Mr. Castellow himself re-echoed this sentiment when he explained that of all the activities of the federal gov-ernment the crop production or seed lean was the most beneficial.

"Farmers of Georgia," Castellow seld, "have shown their need of this assistance by the large amounts they have borrowed, and have demonstrated their appreciation by the manner in which they have repaid the government."

ment."
He expressed the hope that the fund in its entirety, as collected in the vetoed measure, would be made avail-able by congress at once.
